

Mushroom Structure

The purpose of this form is to create an aesthetically pleasing feature to provide shade in a treeless back yard. The stem would be a cylindrical hyperboloid, and the head would be a parabolic low-profile dome.

The setup shown here recruits a different style of stem structure, and is topped by a bolt-together section of what will become a 30' diameter dome.